Training description

The rise of generative AI, Web 3.0, and the metaverse is reshaping the creative industries, unlocking new possibilities for content creation, storytelling, and audience engagement. However, these innovations come with complex ethical, legal, and regulatory challenges.

The course equips professionals with the knowledge and tools needed to navigate this evolving landscape, ensuring the responsible and sustainable use of emerging technologies in the creative sectors. It allows learners to gain a strategic edge by understanding how cutting-edge technologies are revolutionizing the creative economy. Participants will learn to anticipate challenges, mitigate risks, and build collaborative frameworks that drive innovation while fostering ethical and sustainable growth.

For more information about the training objectives, target population, entry requirements, methodology, evaluation and content, consult the page here.

How to apply

In order to register for the training, applicants should:

1. Create an ITU Academy account here
2. Apply for the course here
3. The selection of participants for the course will be made by the course coordinators, based on the course's entry requirements, selection criteria and available number of seats. If selected, you will receive a notification by email.

How to pay for the training

This course is organized by University of the Witwatersand (WITS), an ITU Academy Training Centre, which will collect the training fees directly.
